SATURDAY, OCT. 4, 1873.

Court next week.

Our devil is panic stricken.

Solicitor Butts arrived in town yesterday to prepare for the Sessions.

Who says Orangeburg doesn't need a Town Market?

See Mr. Van B. Riley's advertisement of a lot made in our advertising columns.

There will be about 30 cases in the Sessions and about 25 jury cases in the Common Pleas.

J. W. Patrick & Co., have recently added largely to their already fine stock of dry goods, shoes, notions, &c. Call on them.

For the convenience of those having business at Court we reprint from our last week's issue the list of jurors for the October Term.

Vose & Izlar have just received a large and fine stock of groceries which they offer at low prices. Good goods and low prices are just what the people want—and what the people want they are sure to find at Vose & Izlar.

Straus & Street, having made great improvements in their mill are ready to pound rice for one-sixth toll—or 35 cents per bushel. They will pay the highest cash price for rough rice, corn and peas.

Mr. John Siffy, father of the Rev. John L. Siffy of this place, died here on the first instant at the advanced age of 81 years. Mr. Siffy was a native of Charleston, but had resided in Orangeburg for nearly thirty five years.

The banker's balance—The amount entrusted by the cashier.

The depositor's balance;—the amount entrusted by the banker.

W. B.—This doesn't apply to the Orangeburg Savings Bank.

Financial matters are about as they were three or four days ago. Business is quiet. The excitement of last week is dying away, but the market has by no means resumed its healthy tone. There has been no run on the bank during the present week—on the contrary, deposits are slowly coming in.

Our enterprising fellow citizen Mr. Thomas Cartmill has just returned from the North with a large stock of dry goods, groceries, clothing, saddlery, &c., which he bought there with special reference to this market. In his new advertisement, which appears in another column, he asks purchasers to call on him and examine his wares—before buying elsewhere. Take our advice and do so.

A convention of Ministers of the Episcopal Church (residing between this point and the seaboard,) will be held at Orangeburg about the 15th of the present month. Some eight or ten clergymen will be present, and those of our citizens who feel inclined to offer the hospitality of the town to one or more of them during their stay, (one or two days) will please notify Jas Lucas, Esq., of James H. Foster—Times.

James Van Tassel Esq., our retiring County Auditor, filed his abstract of Real Estate for the current fiscal year, to the Comptroller General's office last Tuesday.

The prompt, careful and thorough preparation of this long and important paper was largely owing to the industrious application of Mr. Van Tassel's hardworking and courteous assistant Mr. H. L. Tuckheim, who has labored early and late, night and day, in drawing it up.

The wife of Mr. James Graham, and mother of Judge Graham, died in Marion on Tuesday. The Star says: "She was an estimable lady, a kind and affectionate wife and mother, and loved by all who knew her. It is with regret that we record the death of one so well-known and so highly appreciated in our midst; one whom a community respected and a family idolized. She will be buried in the resting place of her ancestors, and soon another tombstone will tell us that the mother's form reposes amid the graves of her children.

We hope none of our old Council who are called on to "Hear and explain" will be in the fix of one of Bret Hart's heroes who rose to a point of order, when a chunk of old red sandstone took him in the abdomen. Then he smiled a sort of sickly smile and sunk upon the floor. And the subsequent proceedings interested him no more.

Let there be peace among those who were our city Fathers.

N. B. This is intended to throw Castor "Oil upon the troubled waters."

At a meeting of the Temperance Society of this place, held on Monday evening last, the following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing term:

W. P. L. H. Wannamaker, W. A. Miss C. L. Nuffer, R. S. W. P. Brunson, A. R. S. James Tucker, F. S. E. C. Dibble, Treas., Miss M. E. Albergotti, Chap., J. S. Cuttino, Com., J. A. Edwards, A. C. Miss C. C. Neuffer, I. S. W. P. Spencer, O. S. James A. Hamilton.

Fever and Ague,

from which mankind suffer over a large part of the globe, is the consequence of a diseased action in the system, induced by the poisonous miasm of vegetable decay. This exhalation, evolved from the action of solar heat on wet soil, and rice with the watery vapor from it. While the sun is below the horizon this vapor lingers near the earth's surface, and the virus, taken with it through the lungs into the blood. There it acts as an irritating poison on the internal viscera and excreting organs of the body. The liver becomes torpid and fails to secrete not only this virus, but also the bile from the blood. Both the virus and the bile accumulate in the circulation, and produce violent constitutional disorder. The spleen, the kidneys, and the stomach sympathize with the liver, and become disordered also. Finally, the instinct of our organism, as if in an attempt to expel the noxious infusion, concentrates the whole blood of the body in the internal extremities to force them to cast it out. The blood leaves the surface, and rushes to the central organs with congestive violence. This is the Chills. But in this effort it fails, and the virus remains in the system. The system abandons the attempt exhausted, and waits for the recovery of strength to repeat the hopeless effort another day. These are the attacks of Ague, and the more they recur, the more the system is exhausted, and the more the health is undermined. We have labored to find, and have found, an antidote.

Ayer's Ague Cure, which neutralizes this malarious poison in the blood, and stimulates the liver to expel it from the body. As it should, so it does cure this afflicting disorder with perfect certainty. And it does more; or rather does what is of more service to those subject to this infection. If taken in season it expels it from the system as it is absorbed, and thus keeps those who use it free from its attacks. It thus keeps the system in health although exposed to the disease. Consequently it not only cures, but protects from, the greatest variety of affections which are induced by this malignant influence, such as Remittent Fever, Chill Fever, Dumb, or Malarial Ague, Periodical Headache, or Bilious Headache, Bilious Fevers, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Dropsy, Dropsical Swellings, Catarrhs, Asthma, Pleurisy, Pleuritic Affections of the Spleen, Hysteria, Colic, Paralysis, and Painful Affections of the Stomach and Bowels, all of which, when arising from this cause, will be found to assume more or less the intermittent type. This "Ayer's Cure" removes the cause of these derangements, and cures the disease.

This it accomplishes by stimulating the excretories to expel the virus from the system; and these organs by degrees become habituated to do this their office of their own accord. Hence when we term vaccination, Time may accomplish the same end, but often life is not long enough, or is sacrificed in the attempt, while this "Ayer's Cure" does it at once, and without any sacrifice of life. We have reason to believe this is a cure as well as a ready remedy for the whole class of diseases which are caused by the malarious infection, than any other which has been discovered, and has the most important advantage to the public, which is, that it is cheap as well as good.

PREPARED BY DR. J. C. AYER & CO. LOWELL, MASS.

PRICE ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

has won for itself such a reputation for the cure of every variety of Throat and Lung disease, that it is entirely unnecessary for us to recite the evidence of its virtues, wherever it has been employed. As it has long been in constant use throughout the civilized world, and has been found to assure the people its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do for their relief all it has ever been found to do.
